1 Introduction

Enswitch enables users to access and navigate their messages and mailbox options via the web interface or via telephone. Enswitch features provide users with the flexibility to pause an incoming call and continue from another phone, or to make a call via the web interface. The following sections describe how to access the various Enswitch features, and provided suggested scenarios applicable to some of these features.

2 Accessing Messages on the Web Interface

This chapter provides instructions for accessing your messages via the web interface. Chapter 3, Accessing Messages via Telephone provides instructions for accessing your messages via telephone.

Deleted: 3

To access your messages from the web interface

1. Log in to the Enswitch web interface.
2. Select the Messages menu.
3. By default, all messages are shown. If you want to see a specific message type, select one of the following options:
 - ◆ All mailboxes
 - ◆ Faxes
 - ◆ Voicemails
 - ◆ Text messages

4. If you have access to more than one mailbox, select the mailbox you want to view. The messages in the selected mailbox appear.

2.1 Searching for Messages

You can search for a specific message or group of messages to display. Your search can be based on a variety of search parameters, including a message's folder location, start and end date, duration, and/or the calling number or name.

To search for a message

1. Log in to the Enswitch web interface.
2. Access the type of messages you want to search for (see Accessing Messages on the Web Interface).

Show messages matching:

Folder:

Start date:

End date:

Minimum duration (seconds):

Maximum duration (seconds):

Calling number or name contains:

3. Enter the following search parameters:
 - ◆ Folder: Select the folder in which the messages are located.
 - ◆ Start date: From the drop-down lists select the start date of the messages you want to locate or click the Calendar icon and select the start date.
 - ◆ End date: From the drop-down lists select the end date of the messages you want to locate or click the Calendar icon to select the end date.
 - ◆ Minimum duration (seconds): The minimum duration, in seconds, of messages for which you want to search.
 - ◆ Maximum duration (second): The maximum duration, in seconds, of messages for which you want to search.
 - ◆ Calling number or name contains: Enter all or part of the calling number or name associated with the messages you want to locate.
4. Click Update.

2.2 Sorting Messages

You can sort the displayed messages based on the messages dates and times, durations, and caller names.

To sort messages

1. Log in to the Enswitch web interface.
2. Access the type of messages you want to display (see Accessing Messages on the Web Interface).

The screenshot shows a 'Sort:' section with two dropdown menus. The first is labeled 'Sort by:' and is set to 'Date and time'. The second is labeled 'Direction:' and is set to 'Ascending'. Below these menus is a dashed horizontal line and a blue 'Update' button.

3. From the Sort by drop-down list, select how to sort your messages. Options are:
 - ◆ Date and time
 - ◆ Duration
 - ◆ Caller
4. From the Direction drop-down list, select to sort your messages in Ascending or Descending order.
5. Click Update.

2.3 Downloading Messages

5 Call Park

Call Park enables you to put a call on hold on one telephone set and continue the conversation from another telephone set.

To park and pick up a call

1. Answer an inbound call.
2. After talking to the caller, press #. You hear "Transfer".
3. Press the park code. By default, the park code is *7.
4. Wait two seconds. You hear a park number, such as 701.
5. Hang up.
6. Call the park number from another telephone.

Note: Only inbound calls can be parked. Outbound calls cannot be parked to allow the # button to work with external IVRs.

6 Click to Call

Click to Call allows you to make a call via the web interface or JSON API.

The following are possible scenarios:

- Speed dials from your web browser's bookmarks.
- Integration with desktop applications such as email clients. To do this, invoke the following URL:

http://enswitch.example.com/actions/call/save/?_username=<enswitch username>&_password=<enswitch password>&stype=phone&phone=<telephone line to call from>&cnumber=<number to call>

- "Click here to call us" buttons on your website. To do this, configure a CGI script on your web server to invoke the following URL:

http://enswitch.example.com/actions/call/save/?_username=<enswitch username>&_password=<enswitch password>&snnumber=<customer number to call first>&cnumber=<feature code pointing to queue or hunt group>

Note: It is important to use a script rather than a link to avoid revealing your username and password.

To call via the web interface

1. Log in to the Enswitch web interface.
2. Select Actions » Make a call to display the Make a call form.

Make a call

- ◆ When answered, forward to: Choose a number to transfer to once the first destination has answered. This can be an arbitrary number, such as an external number, number, feature code, or telephone line.
 - ◆ Callerid on first call: Choose the callerid number to display on the first call. Choose Withheld if you do not want the number displayed.
 - ◆ Callerid on second call: Choose the callerid number to display on the second call. Choose Withheld if you do not want the number displayed.
4. Click Call. The first destination should ring within a few seconds.
5. You can bookmark the next page to make the same call in future.

7 Forwarding to an External Extension

Many features allow you to forward a call to an external number using the "External number" entry box on the destination selector. You can play DTMF to the destination if this is required to specify a particular extension. For example, to dial "2125551234" and play DTMF "123" when answered, enter "2125551234x123" in the external number entry box. Anything after the "x" is taken to be DTMF to play.

You may need to delay the DTMF depending on the menu the far end plays. You can do this by adding a "w" to the string specified. Each "w" creates a delay of 0.5 seconds. You may specify as many of these as you wish. For example, "2125551234xwww1w123" will dial 2125551234, then, when answered, waits two seconds, plays a 1, waits another 0.5 seconds, plays 123, then connects the caller. Some experimentation may be required to find the correct combination of DTMF and waiting.
